

WEEK 29

10th

NAME:

GRADE:

ENGLISH ACTIVITIES

TEACHER: MARGARITA BARCIA

ACTIVITY 5

Use if como la condicional del resultado o efecto en una oración del presente, no use la coma (,) si el resultado (oración en presente) se encuentra antes del condicional

READ AND ANALYZE THE FOLLOWING GRAMMAR TIP:

When you express a general condition and the result of that condition, you use:

If + presente tense (conditional), present tense (result)

Example: If I am tired, I sleep.

Si estoy casanda, duermo.

The position of the clauses does not change the meaning.

Example: I sleep if I am tired

Duermo si estoy cansada

Do not use comma (,) to separate the two clauses if the result clause is first as in the last example.

2. According to the table above, complete sentence using conditional IF.

De acuerdo a lo de arriba, complete usando el condicional IF.

_____, you die.

If you don't eat/If you want to play/If you drink/If my husband cooks b.
