

SCHOOL: CLEVELAND ENEAS PRIMARY SCHOOL
GRADE 6: SOCIAL STUDIES
THEME 1: OUR SYSTEM of GOVERNMENT
TOPIC: ENFORCING the LAWS of THE BAHAMAS
PART 1

Please Notice This

READ ALL OF THESE NOTES AND WATCH ANY VIDEO THAT MAY BE ATTACHED BEFORE ATTEMPTING THE ASSIGNMENT ON THE NEXT PAGE.

VOCABULARY:

law enforcers - people who make sure people obey the law, for example policemen, customs officers, immigration officers, defense force officers, and prison officers.

WHY DO WE NEED LAW ENFORCERS?

We need law enforcers to make sure that the laws are obeyed. People who break the law are committing a crime. In The Bahamas one group of law enforcers is the Royal Bahamas Police Force (RBPF).

WHO ENFORCES THE LAW IN THE BAHAMAS?

- a) The Royal Bahamas Police Force (R.B.P.F.)
- b) The Royal Bahamas Defense Force (R.B.D.F.)
- c) Bahamas Customs Department
- d) Immigration Department
- e) Prison Officers

Which branches of the government share in responsibility for enforcing the law?

- a) The EXECUTIVE branch
- b) The JUDICIAL branch

What does it mean to “enforce the law”?

- a) To make sure that laws are obeyed
- b) Try and prevent crime from happening

Which Government Ministry is responsible for law enforcement?

The Ministry of National Security. The current/present Minister of National Security is the Honorable Marvin Dames.

The Royal Bahamas Police Force (RBPF):

In The Bahamas, one group of law enforcers is the Royal Bahamas Police Force (RBPF), established in 1840.

MOTTO: COURAGE • INTEGRITY • LOYALTY

It is the duty of the police to arrest people who commit a crime and to bring them to court. The police work long hours, both day and night, so that law-abiding citizens can feel safe and secure.

In order to become a police officer you must:

- Be 18 years old
- A Bahamian citizen
- Be a law-abiding citizen
- Have no police record for any criminal offence
- Pass the entrance exam
- Be physically fit
- Attend the Police Training College for special training.

The lowest rank on the police force is that of a constable. An officer can then be promoted to corporal, sergeant, inspector, then to the highest rank of commissioner – the officer in charge of the entire force.

The current commissioner of Police is Commissioner Paul A. Rolle

Information gathered from "Primary Social Studies and Tourism Education Book 6"

Prepared by: Mrs. C. Marguerite Forbes-Moree