

LIVING THINGS STRUTURE

1.- Choose the correct option

2.- Tick the correct sentences

Cells are the basic unit of structure.

A group of cells make up a system.

A group of tissues make up an organ.

An organism is an individual living thing that is made up of one or more organ systems.

The locomotor system is a tissue.

3.- Match

are groups of cells that work together to perform a specific activity

Are groups of organs that work together to perform a certain function

Individual living thing that is made up of one or more organ systems

Are the basic unit of structure

are made up of tissues