The rules of the game are simple: the teacher chooses a date and names the days before and after it. For example: "Yesterday it was warm, tomorrow it will be sunny. What's the date?"

Students should try to find the date according to the descriptions.

With this game students can practice such themes as "Weather", "Ordinal Numerals" and "Days of the week".

P.S. I made this work according to Russian type of weather in October ☺ If the weather in your country differs from ours feel free to change anything you want (the document is editable)
