

Which production department function do you think was responsible for the following scenarios:

| Scenarios                                                                                                                                                                                                   | Production Function |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------|
|    Design and testing of the Starbucks latest non-dairy range?                    |                     |
|    Ensures products are good quality?                                          |                     |
|    Ensures there is enough input for production and output for distribution?  |                     |
|                                                                                                                                                                                                             |                     |

Maintains and repairs the production line?

Making changes to the old iPhone 5 to the new iPhone 12?

Helps you with any problems you may have after buying the product?