

Write the subordinating conjunction in the following sentences.

1. Although he was in the military, Joe is having trouble finding a job.
2. When inquiring about the program, we were told it had been cancelled.
3. Even after Pete graduated, he continued to visit his teachers.
4. For as long as she has lived here, Mathilda has walked to school.
5. George hates movies, so we never go to see any.

Write whether the following sentences are complex or simple.

1. We won't have a play this year, unless someone volunteers to take the lead part.
2. I bought a new rug.
3. Kaylee forgot my birthday again this year.
4. We shut the door so that the cat wouldn't get out.
5. After my parents agreed, they told me what they had decided.

