

Complex Sentence

- Contains an independent clause and a dependent clause.
- The dependent clause begins with a subordinating conjunction.

Example: Because the boys went to the park, they did not go to the zoo.

The boys did not go to the zoo because they went to the park.

Tip: Look for these subordinating conjunctions: after, before, because, although, when, since, if, whenever, unless, while, so that, even though.

Directions:

- Review the following complex sentences.
 - Decide if the sentence has correct comma usage or not. Write "yes" if the sentence is correct.
 - Write "no" if the sentence is incorrect.
- When I study literature, I look for themes in the story.
 - Identifying themes in literature is helpful if you want to deepen your comprehension of a text.
 - Because figurative language is indirect description, readers have to infer the meaning.
 - Readers have to infer the meaning of figurative language, because it is indirect.
 - When you analyze a character in a story you should look for clues about their personality and motives.
 - When you interpret a metaphor, you have to think about what is being compared.
 - If you want to deepen your understanding of literature, pay attention to language and description.
 - Pay attention to language and description if you want to deepen your understanding of literature.
 - When you read literary texts on a test like the GED think about the strategies we learned in class.

