SNOW JOKE

The next morning Jen tells everyone about her spooky night.

Bruno - There is something strange about this school. I hear things too... I hear footsteps and laughing sometimes. And things disappear. Remember all those clothes that disappeared from the dance class? I'm sure that my food disappears too.

CJ - I think we all know where your food goes!

Bruno - I'm serious! My mum sends me boxes of biscuits and chocolates – and I can't find them anywhere. It's no joke!

Debs - I think that someone is playing a joke on us. And I bet it's Jack. Look!

It looks cool!

The students run out onto the snow and pelt Jack with snowballs.

Debs - Take that!
I knew it was you!

They all look out of the window – and there's Jack standing in the snow next to a snowman.

But this is not just any snowman.

This is a very smart and fashionable snowman.

It's wearing Melody's missing hat, Jen's scarf and CJ's jacket.

You took the clothes and everyone blamed ME!

Jen - I bet it was you who scared me last night too!

Melody makes a snowball too. SPLATT!
It hits Jack on the head.

Melody - You took my hat! That was my favourite.

Jack takes cover behind the snowman.

Jack - Stop! Wait! I did make this snowman. That's true. I made it last night. But I did NOT take the clothes and I did NOT put the clothes on him. When I came out this morning he was dressed like this. Honest!

Bruno - You see! There is a mystery about this school. Has that snowman got my box of biscuits?

Jack - No - but it's got a note.

A note!! Jack opens it...
