

What Nicole Kidman Actually Eats in a Day

Nicole Kidman is 49 and arguably, in the best shape of her life. We needed to know her secrets. "I'm actually not that strict with my diet. I pretty much eat anything, but all in moderation," she said. Nicole Kidman eats lean protein. Since she's from Australia, she eats a lot of seafood, which is a good source of protein.

The actress also revealed that she likes to drink a cup of coffee with little sugar. She sometimes drinks some vegan green smoothies before she has breakfast. When she has time, she prepares healthy pancakes with a few slices of banana on it. For lunch she eats some salads, her favorite one is the dark forest salad because it has a red cabbage, broccoli and spinach topped with crumble feta cheese and grilled chicken.
