John, 16

B My stepbrother doesn't do as many jobs around the house as I do and I am getting a bit fed up with this. Yesterday I did the vacuuming and the shopping and he only laid the table.

What can I say to my mum and stepdad to make things fairer?

C My parents still treat me like I am a young girl and I want to have more freedom now I'm fourteen. I am sick of being treated like a baby. What can I do?

We speak to three teenagers about the music in their lives.

A

I'm a big fan of music festivals because I get to see my favourite bands and singers play at them. I also see new bands that I don't normally listen to. I always go to Glastonbury. I love camping at the festival, but it isn't much fun in the rain and it often rains there. Last year, I saw The Rock Roses play there. I also go to smaller festivals. There's one near my town every July. It's called 'Yeah Baby' and it's a great place to see local bands as well as big names. Of course, I always look the part at festivals. I usually wear shorts, a short top and wellies – they're boots for when it rains.

Anna – Cornwall

B

I play in a band with three friends. We play heavy metal so it's really fast and loud, though we do have some slow songs. I play the guitar and sing. Sam also plays the guitar, Debra plays the saxophone and Simon plays the drums. We usually rehearse at my house because we've got a big garage. Luckily my neighbours are very understanding – we make a lot of noise! It's quite hard playing the guitar and singing, so we are looking for a new 'voice' for our band. If you are interested, message me on Facebook at Stuart Jones.

Stuart – Milton Keynes

C

Everyone in my family loves music and can play an instrument. I play the clarinet. I started learning it three years ago at school. My sister plays the cello and she's really good at it. She's in the school band with me. It's a big band with lots of instruments. My mum plays the piano and my dad plays the double bass. Everyone says we should form a band! We also have a lot of CDs and records in our house. The CD shelves in the living room are packed full of them and my sister and I both have CDs in our bookcases in our bedrooms. I think the only room that doesn't have any music in it is the bathroom!

Kerry – Swansea
