

Read the story.

Ronald gets up at six o'clock every morning when he has to go to school. He takes a bath at half past six. Then he eats his breakfast. When breakfast is finished, he brushes his teeth and gets ready for school. At half past seven, Ronald is ready for school. He says goodbye and leaves the house.

Ronald walks with his sister, Shania, to the end of the footpath, which leads to the house. There he waits for Mr. Benn. Mr. Benn is the taxi driver who lives next door. He takes the children to school in his car. Sometimes the traffic is heavy and Mr. Benn has to drive slowly but Ronald is always early for school. When the bell rings at half past eight, Ronald goes quickly to the line.
