Hi Tom,

How are you? Are you free on Saturday? My dad and I are going to go to Blackwood Forest to see the butterflies. We went last year, too, and you really should come. It's amazing! There are millions of butterflies in the forest this time of year and some of them are really big. So, you need to wear comfortable shoes and we need to be really quiet. If we're noisy, the butterflies will fly away. And of course we shouldn't touch them. You know that butterflies are really sensitive and if you touch their wings, they'll probably die. Another thing is that we need to walk on the path. We shouldn't walk away from the path because it's easy to walk on butterflies. So, if you are free on Saturday, we'll go to Blackwood Forest by car. Email me, please!

Bye for now,
Eric
