The Health Factory will introduce a new line of vitamins, a company spokesman said yesterday. The vitamins are intended for athletic men and women, who are looking for a vitamin that will replace vital nutrients lost during strenuous exercise. Unlike regular vitamins, the Health Factory Active Essentials 2020 have more iron, calcium, and potassium. The new vitamins have been tested on performance by up to 20 percent. Of course, health products like the Active Essentials vitamins are not cheap. One month's supply of the new vitamins costs about $200. To promote the new product, however, the Health Factory is offering a special 30 percent discount to anyone who purchases the new vitamins with their Health Factory card. For more information on the new product or to apply for a Health Factory card, call the company's customer service hotline at 1-800-326-HEALTH.

OfficeMax 623 Sprite Way Glenburnie, MD 21061 Mandy Grocutt, Purchasing Manager HDFC Insurance 9401 Largo Drive West Landover, MD 20785 Dear Ms. Grocutt, I realized that HDFC hasn't placed an order for office supplies with us over the last six months. We are concerned that you may have been dissatisfied with us in some ways. Although we pride ourselves on the quality of our products and services, we highly rely on comments from valued clients such as HDFC to give us feedback on how well we are meeting your needs. If you have experienced any problems with Office Max, we would like to be informed. I have enclosed a brochure which tells you more about a new purchasing system we implemented in May, which helps corporate clients, like HDFC, benefit from considerable discounts for bulk orders. Also included is a postage-paid comment card, which I kindly invite you to fill out and return to us so that we can hear how you feel about our service. I assure you that your comments, both positive and negative, will be taken seriously and addressed appropriately. Sincerely, Patrick McCann Customer Relations
