Students at the young age always have to face a difficult decision to make. Some want to go on with their study at vocational school or higher school; others prefer to start work immediately. Many school leavers are eager to go to work in order to make money to live independently and help their parents. They always do their best to overcome any obstacles they may encounter. Unfortunately, owing to the guidance poor and biased from their parents and teachers, most boys and girls are ill-prepared for unemployment. Therefore, they often feel worried and build up all sort of fearsome prospects in their mind as the time to start work gets nearer. It is the duty of the school and family to prepare these young people for their future jobs.

- 17) Many school leavers want to find a job right after leaving school as they want to lead an independent life.
 18) Some young people become confident when they are faced with difficulties.
 19) These young people need preparing well for their future jobs from their school and family.
 20) These young people are always encouraged to do their best to overcome any obstacles they may encounter from their teachers and parents.
 21) The main idea of the passage is _____
 A. Learning at university
 B. Getting to know about new jobs.
 C. Starting to work after leaving school.
 D. Making an important decision at the young age.
