Wujec says a winning team needs people with specialized skills – for example ¹ _____ – and people with facilitation skills such as ² _____.

When Wujec first offered a prize of $10,000 for the tallest structure, no one even built a standing structure, because they didn't have the right ³ _____ on the team. However, when the same group tried a second time, they succeeded, because they had learned the importance of ⁴ _____.

Wujec says every project has its own marshmallow, by which he means

⁵ _____. In the case of the marshmallow challenge, everyone seems to assume that the marshmallow should go on last, for example. It seems so obvious that no one ⁶ _____ it.
