

Body IDIOMS

Brain drains

Toe the line

Be all ears

Let one's hair down

Head over heels

Keep one's chin up

Cold shoulder

Have itchy feet

Elbow room

Have a sweet tooth

Have cold feet

A frog in the throat

A bad hair day

See eye to eye

agree totally with someone

pay no attention

have a desire to travel

like to eat sweet food

a day when everything goes wrong be scared of doing something; lose courage to do something enough space to work in or move

be ready to listen intensively or open to all ideas

relax

completely in love

follow the rules

remain cheerful in tough situations

loss of educated workforce

difficulty speaking
because the throat
feels dry

on the blink

put some muscle behind it neck of the woods

be back on one's feet

a particular area or locality increase physical strength or effort to do something make someone angry

helpless with emotion

weak at the knees

bite one's tongue

play it by ear

work one's finger to the bone pretend not to notice

someone is extremely anxious, nervous & worried be healthy again after a period of illness do hard or dirty physical work get one's hands dirty

a bundle of nerves

turn a blind eye

make someone's blood boil decide what to do as situation develops make a desperate effort to avoid saying something work extremely hard

not working properly;
out of order