Practice 29

Each of the underlined words contains either a spelling or grammatical error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

Popular car brands include Mercedes, Audi and Volkswagen. However, not many people know from a car called the Peel P50. It is actually the small car in the world. Its inventor wanted it to be extremely compect. It only has three wheels: two in front and one behind. Its sol door is on its left side. It was originally manufacture from 1962 to 1965. To make the car turn around, one has to use the handle at its rear to phisically do so. The Peel P50 was 7.

3.

5.

mean to be driven in the city. In fact, in the 1960s, it was advartised as the car that could fit an adult and a shopping bag.

Production of these cars seased in 1964. Today, out of the 50 units of 10.

Peel P50 that were produced, only 27 are still know to exist. This makes it one of the rare cars in the world. One such car was even sold at an auction for 12.

11.

an astounding sum of US$176 000! In 2010, the P50 was re-manufactured in England. This newer version is similar to the original P50 but with improved capabilities.

Practice 30

Each of the underlined words contains either a spelling or grammatical error. Write the correct word in each of the boxes.

Mrs Tan was waiting for her laundry to be done. However, she needed to head to the nearby supermarket. She was running low of some kitchen supplies. She decide not to waste time. She would go to the supermarket 3.

while the washing machine was still run. This way, by the time she returned home, the laundry would be done.

Mrs Tan's trip to the supermarket took her long than expected. There was a long queue at the cashier as there was a discount on some items that day. It resulted in a large crowd at the supermarket as many people did not want to miss out on the atractive deals. Mrs Tan could only look helpless at 8.

5.

her watch and sigh to herself. After what seemed like an eternity, she was finally done. Remembering her laundry in the washing machine, she walked home brusqly.

When Mrs Tan got home, she received a rude shock. While she had been away, the washing machine had broken down and all the water had 10.

11.

flahded the area. The kitchen was now like a weiding pool. Straightaway, 12.

Mrs Tan mopped the water up. However, as the machine was spoil, she had to finish the laundry by hand.

The next morning, Mrs Tan headed to the electronics store to purchase a new washing machine.
