When you're choosing a pet, it's important to think about your home. Do you live in a house with a big yard? Do you live in an apartment building with a small balcony and lots of neighbors? Dogs like big yards. Cats and rabbits like yards, but they're OK in apartments, too. Fish and hamsters are small and quiet. They're great in apartments. Which is a good pet for your home? A hamster or a fish? A rabbit, a cat, or a big, friendly dog?

Here's a letter from a reader about her pet ferret.

I have a pet ferret. Ferrets are funny and very friendly. They aren't dangerous, dirty, or noisy. But it's important for children to be careful with ferrets. They're smaller than dogs, and they're happy to live in apartments. I think they're more interesting than cats. I play with my ferret in the apartment and on the balcony. I even play with it in the park! Ferrets eat cat food and they drink water. They don't like fish or milk. I love my pet ferret and my neighbour loves her, too.
