READING SECTION (16 points 1 each)

5. Read Afroz Shah's life story. Are the sentences true (T) or false (F)

My life story

Afroz Shah is a National Geographic Explorer. He lives in Brunei, where he works as a professor. We asked him some questions about his life.

What was your life like when you were a child?

I was born in a small village in Kashmir, India. The Himalayan mountains were all around me—I was always amazed by them! I lived with my mom, my dad, my two brothers, and my sister. My mom worked as a teacher and my dad was a builder. Our village was great—it was like a big family. We didn't have much, but everyone in the village loved us and cared for us.

Where did you study?

My primary and secondary schools were in Jammu and Kashmir, India. I later went to college in Aligarh, India, and I graduated with a master's degree in Earth sciences. After that, I studied in Australia and got a doctoral degree in geology.

Tell us about your work.

As you know, I study earthquakes. There were many earthquakes in Kashmir when I was young. Most weren't strong, but in the year 2005, a big earthquake destroyed many homes, and people's lives, too. Today, I know a lot more about earthquakes and why they happen. Yes, some are dangerous, but they're also an important part of life on Earth.

47. Afroz grow up in India.	T	F
48. Afroz works as a photographer.
49. Afroz's mother was a teacher
50. Afroz's secondary school was in India.
51. Afroz felt many earthquakes when he was young.

5. Read the text and chose the correct option.

How to have a healthy mind

Many people exercise and look after their bodies. But a healthy mind is important, too. Here are six ways to keep your mind healthy.

1 Rest

When your mind is tired, your whole body feels tired, too. Take breaks and get enough sleep. Take a vacation if you can.

2 Exercise

Exercise is good for your mind, too. It helps with stress, and it helps you sleep better. Try to exercise a little every day.

3 Eat healthy food

There isn't one special "brain food." Eat a balanced diet. Is the food you're eating good for the body? Then it's also good for the mind.

4 Learn new things

Exercise your brain. Learn new things in your free time. Read a book or listen to an interesting podcast.

5 Be creative

Give your mind something fun to do. Write a song, paint a picture, or make videos. There are many ways to be creative!

6 Make friends

We all need people who care about us. Make new friends and spend time with old ones. Talk about your lives. It's good for the mind.
