

Mineral

Rock

Streak

Luster

Cleavage

Fracture

Hardness

- a. The way a mineral splits: breaks in an irregular way
- b. a naturally occurring solid made of one or more minerals
- c. describes how light is reflected from a mineral's surface
- d. A naturally occurring solid that can form by inorganic processes and has a crystal structure and definite chemical composition
- e. The color of the powdered form of a mineral
- f. The way a mineral splits: easily along flat surfaces
- g. the resistance of a mineral to being scratched

Label the following with the correct way to identify minerals: Hardness   Streak   Luster

