

WILL or BE GOING TO?

Choose the correct form.

1. Look! He will swim/is going to swim in this lake.
2. I think I will tell/am going to tell them my secret.
3. He is sure he will understand/is going to understand this new grammar point.
4. Winter will come/ is going to come soon.
5. I've got a new plan. I am going to write/will write them.
6. He's got spaghetti. He is going to cook/will cook dinner.
7. I hope I will break/am going to break his record.
8. I promise I will show/am going to show you that photo.
9. Be careful! You will hurt/are going to hurt yourself!
10. Mike will travel/is going to travel. I saw him giving money to the travel agent.
11. I've booked a hotel and I will stay/am going to stay there.
12. I need to write an essay on 'Romeo and Juliette' so I will read/am going to read that book.
13. Look, she's smiling at her phone. She will take/is going to take a selfie again!
14. – What would you like to eat? – I'll have/I'm going to have a sandwich, please.
15. Will you help/Are you going to help me with this task?
16. Robert will turn/is going to turn 17 this year.
17. Nill proposed to Teresa and they will get/are going to get married!
18. You will win/are going to win, I am sure.
19. Look where you're going! You will tear/are going to tear your jeans!
20. They're in the cinema with popcorn and cola. They will watch/are going to watch a film.

