Hi Lia!

I tried to contact you last night, but I guess you didn't notice. Where you out with your cousin again?

Anyway, I finally have a decent amount of money saved! I'm going to go shopping on Sunday. Do you want to come? I'm thinking about changing my tablet. I got an ad on social media about a midnight sale on Office Depot with up to thirty five percent discount on all electronic devices. Say you can join me, please. Give me a call later today,

—June

Howdy June,

I'm sorry I missed your message. I was out with my cousin -you got it- and the place was very loud.

Sunday sounds great! I'm free all the weekend, and you know that I love shopping! I think I also need to update some of my electronics. Could we invite Lena too. She mentioned the other day that she was looking for a new printer. I have her phone number. Call me later tonight and let's make plans!
