Having fun at the zoo

Peter and Clare both love learning about animals, and last Sunday was very exciting because their grandparents took them to the zoo. They bought their tickets and went inside. First, they went to see the lions. The animals were very loud and the children were frightened at first, but Grandma said "Don't worry! You're safe. The lions are inside that huge cage."

EXAMPLES:

Last Sunday, Peter and Clare went to ...the zoo.. with their grandparents.

Before ...they went inside..., the family bought some tickets.

QUESTIONS:

The lions made lots of (1) noises.

The (2) where the lions were was huge.

Then they went to the pool to see the dolphins and a man who worked at the zoo saw them. He was a friend of Grandpa's and asked Peter and Clare, "Would you like to help me to give the dolphins their lunch?"

"Wow! Yes, please!" the children answered.

It was fun feeding the dolphins and to listen to them making funny noises. Grandma filmed them on her phone.

Grandpa's friend asked the children (3) him give lunch to the dolphins.

Clare and her brother enjoyed (4) and listening to them.

Grandma picked up (5) and filmed her grandson and granddaughter.

Everyone laughed a lot when the children got wet because they were near the water when the dolphins jumped out and back in again. Then, Grandpa looked at his watch and said "Oh dear! It's four o'clock and the zoo closes at five. We can see one more animal. Which one would you like to see?"

"The hippos!" they both answered. "We have to draw a picture of them for homework!" And that is what they did!

When Grandpa looked at his watch, he saw that it was (6) .
