TV PROGRAMS

Match the type of TV programs to their descriptions.

_____1 a wildlife program
_____2 a reality show
_____3 a costume drama
_____4 a soap opera
_____5 a sitcom
_____6 a sketch show
_____7 a documentary
_____8 a docudrama
_____ 9 a series
_____10 a serial
_____11 a thriller
_____12 a detective series
_____13 a game show
_____14 a quiz show
_____15 a current affairs program _____16 the news

a) a non-fictional film or tv program that provides a factual account of real-life events, subjects, or issues. These often include interviews, archival footage, and expert analysis to inform and educate viewers
b) a type of tv show that provides in-depth analysis, discussion, and coverage of social issues, and relevant topics; often includes interviews, panel discussions, and investigative reports
c) a serialized drama that typically focuses on the lives and relationships of multiple characters. These are known for their melodramatic and emotionally charged storytelling
d) focuses on showcasing various aspects of wildlife and the natural world; often includes documentaries, footage of animals in their natural habitats, and discussions about conservation efforts a genre of tv program that generates
e) suspense, tension, and excitement through its plot, often involving high-stakes situations, danger, and intrigue
f) a program that features contestants participating in various games, challenges, or competitions to win prizes or rewards
g) program or film that blends elements of true events and romanticized fictional elements to enhance storytelling and entertainment value
h) program that presents real-life events and interactions, often involving ordinary people in unscripted situations
i) These programs inform viewers about developments in various areas, including politics, economics, social issues, and more; typically presented in a concise and factual manner
j) a comedy program that consists of a series of short comedic scenes or sketches, often unrelated to each other
k) a genre of tv program or film that is set in a particular historical period. These often depict historical events, social customs, and manners of the time
l) a collection of related television episodes that follow a common theme, storyline, or set of characters. Each episode can generally stand alone and doesn't necessarily rely on the others for continuity.
m) revolves around solving crimes, mysteries, or puzzles
n) a tv show where participants answer questions on various topics to test their knowledge
o) a comedic television show that typically follow a consistent setting and recurring characters, allowing for ongoing comedic storylines
p) a type of tv show where the storyline and characters continue from one episode to the next; missing an episode can lead to difficulty in understanding subsequent developments

LIVEWORKSHEETS