

BRIEF PLOT OF 'THE WHALE'

*The text per se had some adaptations.

INSTRUCTIONS:

1. Choose the appropriate expression for narration and sequencing that better suits to the sentences from the plot below.
2. The answers are sortable.

_____, this movie tried to follow the life of Charlie, an overweight college professor who hid himself from the world due to his obesity and a personal tragedy. _____, he decided to lose contact with his daughter, Ellie, who resented him for leaving her and her mother years ago. As an attempt to reconnect, Charlie _____ offered Ellie some money and assistance with her school problems _____ she secretly visited him.

_____, a missionary named Thomas arrived, hoping to bring faith into Charlie's life. But as Ellie and Thomas spent time with Charlie, secrets had come to light. Ergo, Thomas confessed he had left his religious group _____ stealing money. And _____ did Thomas say so, Ellie had recorded this confession.

Charlie's health started to deteriorate, and it had revealed that he had been saving money for Ellie, causing frustration from Ellie and his nurse, Liz. _____ Charlie's condition worsens, he sends a heartfelt message to his students, by _____ showing his true self before passing away.

_____, Charlie left his last thoughts by reflecting on happier times with Ellie and her mother, Mary. Therefore, this story is about redemption, forgiveness, and the quest for connection, showing how even in difficult times, people can find understanding and meaning in their relationships.

