Review Adverbs

Adverbs can describe how, where or when something happens. For adverbs that describe 'how' we can follow this rule.

When an adjective ends in a consonant, you can just add -ly to make it an adverb. If the consonant it ends in is L then you end up with a double L. Below are more examples

He _____eats all of the donuts.

usualey | usualy | usually | usualley

Maggie _____ crawled along the floor.

slowlly | slowely | slowley | slowly

Crusty The Clown laughed _____

loudly | loudely | loudelly | loudley

Apu _____ opened a new convenience store.

proudlly | proudely | proudley | proudly
