

Directions: Listen to the audio as many times as you need to, and then fill in the blanks.

Adrienne: So, Hiroshi, when I _____ to a sushi restaurant, how do I _____ what to _____?

Hiroshi: _____ on the _____ I have to say cause there is a _____ of sushi that you can order. One, I _____ think, there's a _____, really big _____ sushi which is toro, it's a fatty _____ of tuna. Even _____ the toro, you get o-toro, chu-toro. There's like _____ different kinds. It depends on how _____ the fat part is being _____, so if you want to go for the _____ flavor, I would _____ go for toro, the fatty tuna.

Adrienne: So _____ is _____? For _____?

Hiroshi: It depends. Yes, they also have just _____ red maguro, which is just the red tuna, with just _____ tuna part, so it doesn't _____ any fat. It's also _____, so it depends on your mood. Also, _____, sometime my dad used to _____ me that like you always _____ with _____ because it cleans your palette, so...

Adrienne: Eggs, like _____ eggs?

Hiroshi: Ah, _____, regular eggs. That tamago eggs, that's _____ of like _____ eggs, but it's on _____ of the rice.

Adrienne: Oh, _____ the big yellow _____.

Hiroshi: The big _____ one.

Adrienne: I know it. OK... So, if I order sushi it's _____ to be _____ or fish or egg?
_____?

Hiroshi: You also _____ some _____. Cucumbers, Kanpyo - that's another _____ of, kind of _____ vegetable, and also _____ some sushi restaurants have _____. That's actually _____ from United States. The Japanese _____ sushi restaurant never had avocado as a _____, but since the United States, California-style.

Adrienne: _____ roll. I know it.

Hiroshi: It _____ very _____, that some Japanese actually _____ enjoying the California _____ sushi, so that sometime you can get _____ in Japan nowadays.

Adrienne: I _____ one time, in America, I had a Seattle _____ which was _____ cheese and _____ in rice and seaweed, so really _____ cause usually there's not _____ in sushi right?

Hiroshi: _____, you'd _____ see cheese in any sushi menu if you go to _____-school sushi restaurant in Tokyo, _____ they're gonna _____ at you.

Adrienne: Yeah, it did _____ a little bit _____.