

Compound nouns can also be made from nouns and adjectives by combining them in a different way.

Look at this >>>

a) A broken hammer.

e) Bent cables.

ACTIVITY FIVE: Write similar ideas with the sentences in activity four.

- | | |
|--------------------------|----------|
| a) A broken hammer | g) |
| b) A broken | h) |
| c) | i) |
| d) | j) |
| e) | k) |
| f) | l) |

ACTIVITY SIX: Complete the ideas with the adjective that fits the best.

stripped - insulated - electrical - dangerous - small

- 1 Uninsulated wires are
- 2 Silicon chips are usually very
- 3 In electricity wires are usually
- 4 wires are very dangerous.
- 5 An system is connected through wires.

ACTIVITY SEVEN: Underline all the compound nouns that you can find in the sentences below.

- a) An anode is a positive electrode of a semiconductor device.
- b) An electric motor uses electrical energy to produce mechanical energy.
- c) A signal generator is a device which produces simple wave forms.
- d) In an electric motor an electric current and magnetic field produce a turning movement.