

SUBJECT: HUMANITIES

TEACHER: MARGARITA

GROUP: F2

NAME:

Questions:

1. What is social science?

- A. The study of human beings and their societies.
- B. The pursuit of facts about a thing.
- C. The study of natural resources.
- D. The study of the brain.

2. What is the importance of location in social science?

- A. It defines a person's ancestry.
- B. It is the only factor that determines a person's profession.
- C. It is paramount in understanding a person's environment.
- D. It has no importance in social science.

3. What is the purpose of organizing a community?

- A. To give people a voice and identity within society.
- B. To establish a political realm.
- C. To create structure and leaders.
- D. All of the above.

4. What is the focus of psychology in social science?

- A. The study of a person's ancestry.
- B. The study of natural resources.
- C. The study of a person's inner being, motivations, thoughts, and feelings.
- D. The study of a person's profession.

5. What do social scientists agree on?

- A. People and the societies in which they live are a fascinating study.
- B. The true nature of man is witnessed only in his interaction with the world around him.
- C. The brain is the origin of a person's thoughts.
- D. All of the above.

6. Who asks the question, "What is this person like?"

- A. The narrator.
- B. A student.
- C. A colleague.
- D. Dr. Psych.

7. What is the main focus of social science?

- A. The study of human beings and their societies.
- B. The pursuit of facts about a thing.
- C. The study of natural resources.
- D. The study of the brain.

