

hardware	CPU	Operating system	virus	hard drive
monitor	software	keyboard	printer
mouse	antivirus software		internet browser	case

Directions: Use the word bank above to fill-in the blanks in the questions below

1. The parts of a computer that you can actually touch are called

_____.

2. _____ tells the hardware what to do and how to do it.

3. The _____ is the most important program that runs on your computer. It lets the computer's hardware and software work together.

4. The _____ is the “brain” of the computer.

5. _____ can damage information on your computer and can make your computer “sick”.

6. The _____ is the metal (or plastic) box that holds all the parts of the computer.

7. _____ protects your computer so that it doesn't get a computer virus.

8. The _____ looks like a TV screen and lets you see your work and your files.

9. The _____ is used for typing words and numbers on the computer.

10. Using an _____ lets you explore the Internet where you can find lots of information, like pictures, videos, and webpages.

11. The _____ takes the text and pictures on your screen and prints them onto paper.

12. The _____ lets you point to objects on your screen, click on them, and even move them.

13. Also inside of the computer case, the _____ is where all of your documents and data are saved.