

HWOO – Weeks 1 & 2:

Language Arts Assessment

1. Drag the words and drop them into their definitions:

sources   topics   technology   festival   contacting   resources

communicating with someone, usually to give or receive a celebration or an organized series of cultural events

supplies of things that are valuable or very useful people, books, documents, websites, etc. that can be used as things people talk about or write about machines or tools that are developed through the use of

2. Unscramble the words that the pictures show:

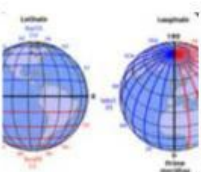

setibew

torme

spg

doorcinetsa

3. Arrange the following words in alphabetical order. Mind the spelling of the words!

research      interview      information      master hosted      internet      smartphone      online profile      media

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.
- 4.
- 5.
- 6.
- 7.
- 8.
- 9.
- 10.

4. Select whether the highlighted words are adjectives or nouns:

- |                                                                     |                         |
|---------------------------------------------------------------------|-------------------------|
| 1. You look through old newspapers to find stories.          | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 2. Some small towns may not appear in the map.               | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 3. You start out by getting another big book .               | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 4. It would be interesting to talk to the mayor of the city. | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 5. There was a bag of black pieces shaped like mints.        | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 6. There is a huge metro in Seoul.                           | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 7. I retrieved a box wrapped in purple paper .               | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |
| 8. Hee Jung got you that nice board.                         | ADJECTIVE / NOUN |

5. Read each sentence carefully. Tick the sentence that is correctly punctuated with quotation marks.:

1. "Trey, I made a game for you," she said. ☐
2. Trey, "I made a game for you," she said. ☐
3. "She wouldn't tell me what it was," he said. ☐
4. "She wouldn't tell me what it was, he said." ☐
5. What is that? "Sol asked". ☐
6. "What is that?" Sol asked. ☐
7. "I'll feel bad if I'm wrong again," Sol called as we biked towards the park. ☐
8. "I'll feel bad if I'm wrong" again, Sol called as we biked towards the park. ☐
9. "Being wrong is part of the game!" I called back. ☐
10. "Being wrong is part of the game!" I called back. ☐

6. Drag and drop the synonyms and antonyms of the following words:

slow

fascinating

fast

tiny

big

boring

| SYNONYM |             | ANTONYM |
|---------|-------------|---------|
|         | interesting |         |
|         | quick       |         |
|         | large       |         |

7. Read the story. Put the events in the correct order:

The Little House

No one knew where it had come from. The funny little house just appeared one day in the alley between the butcher's and the grocer's. It was made of stone, with a log roof, and the cutest little green door. On the day that Amanda found the house, there was smoke swirling up out of the chimney, clearly indicating that someone was at home.

Amanda got down on her knees to examine the little house. How was one to knock on such a tiny door? She tapped it with the tip of her fingernail. Then she tapped again. There was a rustling sound, and then to Amanda's surprise, the door was flung open, and there stood before her a tiny little fairy.

"You're late!" the fairy said.

"I am?" Amanda replied.

"Lunch is getting cold!" The fairy reached for Amanda's hand and when they touched, Amanda got a funny sensation in her belly, like she sometimes got when going over a dip in the road, or when standing in an elevator when it makes its first, downward lurch. The next thing she knew, she was as tiny as the fairy, and she was being led into a sweetly furnished house that was as neat as a pin.

_____ Amanda kneels to examine the house.

_____ A fairy opens the door.

_____ Amanda finds the little house.

_____ Amanda taps on the little door.

_____ Amanda gets a funny sensation in her belly.

_____ The fairy leads Amanda into the house.

