

A. Read about Sam's holiday. Then, complete the table below.

Sam is going on holiday to Greece. He will only be there for a week though, so he probably won't have time to do all the things he wants to. He loves history, so he will visit the Acropolis, and he will probably go to the Temple of Zeus too. He also enjoys shopping, so he might visit the markets in Athens to buy some presents. Sam plans to try lots of the local food while he is in Greece, but he might not try Greek coffee as he's heard it is very strong. As he won't be in Greece for very long, he probably won't visit any of the Greek islands, so he will have to do that another time. Unfortunately, it is winter, so he won't go to the beach while he is there. This isn't a problem though because Sam doesn't know how to swim.

He is certain to do this	He is very likely to do this	It is possible that he will do this	This may not be possible	He is very unlikely to do this	He is not going to do this

B. Match the vocabulary definitions with the words.

- | | |
|--|------------------------|
| 1. When we are uncertain if something is possible, we use | a. probably won't |
| 2. When something in the future is very likely, we use | b. won't |
| 3. When something is possible, we use | c. will |
| 4. When something in the future is certain, we use | d. will probably |
| 5. When something in the future is unlikely, we use | e. infinitive form |
| 6. When we know something is not going to happen, we use | f. may not / might not |
| 7. The main verb following the modal verb is always in the | g. may / might |

C. Put the words in the correct order to create sentences.

1. tonight / we / probably / out / won't / go
2. next / Sara / may / married / year / get
3. I / probably / late / for / will / work / be
4. not / the / Kim / might / pass / exam
5. party / they / won't / be / the / at

C. Maria is going to London for two days, but she won't be able to do all the things she wants to. Look at the table and complete each sentence below using a modal verb of possibility or certainty with one of the verbs provided.

It is possible that she will do this	She is not going to do this	She is very likely to do this	She is certain to do this	She is very unlikely to do this	This may not be possible
shop for souvenirs visit a market	see animals at the zoo visit Tower Bridge	shop on Oxford St go on a red bus tour	try fish and chips try beer in a pub	have lunch in Hyde Park spend a night at the Ritz Hotel	ride a boat down the River Thames go to a theatre have visit (X2) walk eat go (X2) stay buy drink take see

1. She a show at the theatre.
2. She on a tour in a red bus.
3. She the London zoo.
4. She fish and chips.
5. She shopping on Oxford Street.
6. She lunch in Hyde Park.
7. She across Tower Bridge.
8. She souvenirs to take home.
9. She a boat trip down the River Thames.
10. She at the Ritz Hotel.
11. She Camden Market.
12. She beer in a pub.

D. Imagine you are going away to a city of your choice. Write four sentences using modal verbs of possibility and certainty about your holiday. Afterwards, read them to your partner and see if they can guess where you're going.

1.
2.
3.
4.