

Teacher: Gil

Class: B1

Writing

The poem "Leisure", by W.H.Davies, was published in 1911 in his book "Songs of Joy and Others". However, we can see that its essence is pertinent nowadays as well. The author states that to enjoy life we need to have time to "stand and stare" instead of living in a rush. In your opinion, does our current society live according with the main idea of the poem? Explain it.

