Higranny

I want to share some good news with you.

On Friday afternoon we had our class party.

We ate Italian pizza and played some Scandinavian games.

This was Bella's idea.

She spent a month in Sweden last summer.

The games were fine.

Then Mrs Roberts our class teacher asked us to vote for the best mate.

We had to think really hard before writing down the name of the kindest, the most helpful and the most caring mate.

Everybody wrote down one name only.

I wrote Simon's name.

I think he is the friendliest of all.

Then Ned and Mark counted the votes and guess what.

I got more votes than the others.

I'm over the moon.

You can be proud of me.

Will you come over for pancakes on Sunday morning.
