

idioms

BY MISS ELY

 LIVEWORKSHEETS

It's raining cats and dogs.

Means ...

A. Cats and dogs are falling from the sky.

B. It's raining very hard.

C. There are a lot of pets.

A piece of cake.

Means ...

A. Something is very good.

B. Something is very beautiful.

C. Something is very easy.

As fresh as a daisy.

Means ...

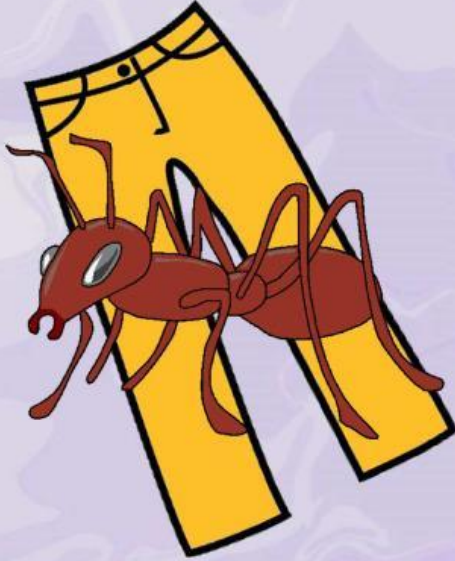

A. You are full of energy.

B. You are very young.

C. You are new at somewhere.

Have ants in your pants.

Means ...

A. You collect insects.

B. You are sitting on the grass.

C. You are not able to sit still.

Break the ice.

Means ...

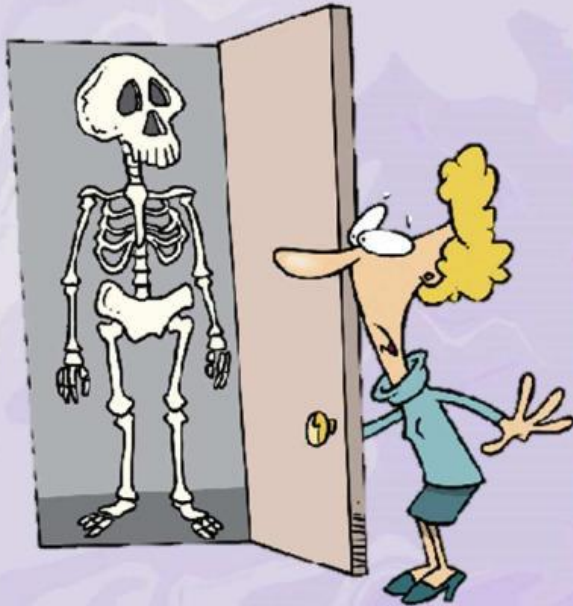

A. You are very strong.

B. You are the first to do or say something.

C. You like cold drinks.

Skeletons in your closet.

Means ...

A. You have secrets.

B. Your closet is full of skeletons.

C. You are not afraid of anything.

Shake a leg!

Means ...

A. Dance with someone.

B. Hurry up!

C. Shake your leg to get a bug off of it.

Hold your horses.

Means ...

A. Ride a horse.

B. Stop your car.

C. Be patient.

On cloud nine.

Means ...

A. Be very happy or excited.

B. Be confused.

C. Be on the ninth floor.

A drop in the bucket.

Means ...

A. A very small part of something.

B. To be thirsty.

C. It's raining a little.

A leopard can't change his spots.

Means ...

A. You are afraid of animals.

B. You are a rude person .

C. You cannot change who you are.

A picture paints a thousand words.

Means ...

A. Make a picture with words.

B. A visual presentation is more descriptive than words.

C. Pictures must be described.