

	EXAMEN UTSV-DAC-FO-01
---	--

CARRERA	Mecatrónica	MATERIA	Inglés IV
TIPO DE EXAMEN	Ordinario	PERIODO	Septiembre - Diciembre	GRUPO Y MODALIDAD	403 Discontinuo
NOMBRE DEL DOCENTE	Ana Laura Vela Velueta
REACTIVOS	21	ACIERTOS		CALIFICACION
NOMBRE DEL ALUMNO:				FECHA

I. Look at the sentences and decide if they are correct or incorrect

- | | | |
|--|---------|-----------|
| 1. This magazine is not cheaper than the paper. | Correct | Incorrect |
| 2. Melissa's cat is more calmer than my dog. | Correct | Incorrect |
| 3. Peter has a more realistic view about the problems. | Correct | Incorrect |
| 4. My classmates are friendlier than yours. | Correct | Incorrect |
| 5. My car is more small than your van. | Correct | Incorrect |

II. Using the correct form to express equality in the comparative form, underline the appropriate sentence.

- Doctors / hard workers / teachers
 - Doctors are hard workers than teacher.
 - Doctors are as hard workers as teachers.
- Canada / cold / Russia
 - Canada is as colder as Russia.
 - Canada is as cold as Russia.
- Hindu Food / spicy / Mexican food
 - Hindu food is as spicier as Mexican food .
 - Hindu food is as spicy as Mexican food.
- I / wise / before
 - I am as wiser as before.
 - I am wiser than before.
- Golden Retrievers / friendly / Chihuahuas
 - Golden Retrievers are friendlier than Chihuahuas.
 - Golden Retrievers are as firendly than Chihuahuas.

III. You're going to listen to descriptions of different situations. Then, read the sentences about them and decide if they are T (true) or F (false).

- | | True | False |
|--|-------|-------|
| 1. Henry is very miserable because he has got a new job | _____ | _____ |
| 2. He was very happy because he enjoys teaching how to swim to people. | _____ | _____ |
| 3. Henry worked 8 hours and he was rude and unkind with students. | _____ | _____ |
| 4. He went back home to have dinner with his parents. | _____ | _____ |
| 5. Henry looked and felt tired. | _____ | _____ |

- IV. In the following activity, you will read a letter that Damian wrote about the places he has visited. Decide if the following statements are true or false.

My journey through different places...

As you all know, the last two years I've been traveling around the world because of my job. It has been really amazing but also tiring. I'm exhausted! I don't want to postpone this because I'm afraid, I might forget important things to share, so I'll write some of my experiences.

I was in Chicago first. I got to O'Hare International Airport, I absolutely loved people working there, and they were all so kind and generous. I think one of the worst airports I've been is the International Airport in Venezuela. I was there two years ago and I remember you're not likely to find an open chair, all the bathrooms are dirty, they are as bad as the ones at the International Airport in Nepal, and you won't find much quality food either. The service could be better I think. Chicago has a very polemic car culture. They have their famous Dibs. Some people don't have garages, so they will shovel out a space for themselves and then they will put lawn chairs or a piece of furniture or maybe their kids' toys in the parking spot to call dibs on it.

Some people totally respect Dibs, but others get very angry about it. This totally reminded me some streets in Mexico, on Saturdays for example, I remember there was this classic street market and people living nearby use wood boxes or empty bucket to let people know that space is "reserved". Very polemic too!

From there I flew to Las Vegas. It was so hot there that Yucatan in spring seemed cold! (I'm exaggerating, I know, but I was in Yucatan once and we had 40 degrees Celsius, and in Las Vegas we had 45!). I couldn't stay there for long! I went to The Grand Canyon, where I learned The Grand Canyon is so gigantic that it can have all mankind there together. I really only can compare this to the Chinese subway at rush hours...

I went to Canada; there I was surprised to know that The Moosehead Brewery in Saint John, New Brunswick turns out 1,642 bottles of beer per minute! I do believe they love beer more than I do. British people drink a 14,841 bottles of beer per minute, I thought British people liked wine better but numbers don't lie!

From Canada I went to Australia. One of the things that surprised me more was to know it's absolutely huge! It has a massive 2.9 million square miles, but it only has a population of 24 million, the closest American state in population is New York, which has over 20 million people, yet Australia is more than 53 times its size. Mexico is really far from this; Mexico has 750,228 square miles and a population of more than 129 million.

I'm willing to write more but I'm going to stop now. I must rest because I have a tidy schedule tomorrow.

Damian.

EXAMEN
UTSV-DAC-FO-01

True False

1. The service at O'Hare Airport is as Good as the service at Venezuela's International Airport. _____
2. The facilities at the International Airport in Nepal are better than the facilities at the International Airport in Venezuela. _____
3. The Grand Canyon is as crowded as the Chinese subway at rush hours. _____
4. Mexico's territory is bigger than Australia's. _____
5. Damian has been in no les than 5 different cities and countries. _____
6. New York is about 53 times smaller than Australia _____

Firma del docente		Pág 3 de 3
----------------------------------	---	--------------------------