

In the forest

- In English, there are three words people use to describe 'forests': _____, _____, _____.
- In Ontario, Canada people generally use the term _____ to describe forest.
- The _____ is one of the most recognizable symbols of Canada and has been used on a Canadian flag.
- During fall Canadians often _____ leaves into piles and then kids jump into them for fun.
- There are three main reasons you can go to the forest in Canada: _____, _____, and cutting down trees for _____.
- The type of tree where leaves turn colour and fall off in the autumn is called _____.
- The trees that have needles instead of leaves and stay green all year round are called _____.
- The part of the tree that's underground is called the _____.
- The middle part of the tree is called the _____ and it has a 'skin' which is called the _____.
- The 'arms' of a tree are called _____ and they have small _____ called _____.
- The part of a tree that is left after the tree was cut down is called a _____.
- Four species of animals you are most likely to see in Ontario woods: _____, _____, _____, and _____.
- The American synonym of autumn is _____ due to the fallen leaves.