IV. Reading 1: Read the passage below and decide whether the statements are TRUE or FALSE.

The Hopi live in the northwestern part of Arizona in the United States. With modern things all around them, the Hopi keep their traditions.

There are about 10,000 Hopi and they live in twelve villages in the desert. The weather is very hot in summer, but in winter it freezes. The wind blows hard. Farming is difficult. Corn is the Hopi's main food, but they plant vegetables, too. They raise sheep, goats, and cattle. They also eat hamburgers, and ice cream and drink soft drinks. They live in traditional stone houses, but many of them have telephones, radios, and television. They have horses, but they have trucks too.

Kachinas are an important part of the Hopi religion. Kachinas are spirits of dead people, rocks, plants, animals, and of stars. Men dress as kachinas and do religious dances. People also make wooden kachinas. No two wooden kachinas are ever alike.

The children attend school, and they also learn the Hopi language, dances, and stories. The Hopi want a comfortable, modern life, but they don't want to lose their traditions.

26. Though surrounded by modern things, the Hopi keep their traditions.

HEALTHY LIVING FOR TEENAGERS

In a recent government survey on healthy eating, teens scored only out of 10. Only 1 in 10 teens eats the recommended amount of fruit and the only vegetable that many teens eat is “chips”. Most teens in the developed world are eating too much but are still not getting the vital nutrients to help them grow and stay healthy.

More information about nutrition and healthy eating is needed to help young people eat properly. Teens who diet often cut out food they need, such as bread or milk, because they think it is fattening. Others don’t know what foods to choose in the school canteen in order to have a balanced diet. There is a saying “you are what you eat”. So, if you want to become the next David Beckham then you'd better start eating properly. Lack of money in schools plus increased pressure to do well in the course exams means that teenagers are doing less sport in school than ever before.

Girls, in particular, are more likely to suffer from lack of exercise and up to 4 in 10 girls stop playing sports in their early teenage years. Just because you aren't sporty doesn't mean you can't be active. Walk or cycle to school instead of taking the bus. Help at home with the housework or gardening. Go dancing with your friends. There are lots of ways you can stop being a couch potato.

If "we are what we eat" then sleep is like food for the brain. Teens need at least 9 hours of sleep every night and even mild sleepiness can affect your performance, humor, and health. Lack of sleep can make you tired, angry, or depressed. Nearly 40% of secondary school students go to bed after 11 p.m. on school nights and 15% of teens say they have fallen asleep during class. In the USA some schools are starting classes at 10 a.m. so that teens can get some extra sleep. These schools have noticed an improvement in their students' work.

36. The text suggests that teenagers....

- A. are healthier than their parents were.
- B. don't have enough information about healthy eating and lifestyle.
- C. sleep more than is needed.
- D. do more sports in schools than before.

37. According to the text, teens who go on a diet cut down on...

- A. vegetables.    B. bread and milk.    C. chips.    D. meat.

38. Most teens in the developed world.....

- A. eat too much but are not eating healthy food.
- B. eat properly and stay healthy.
- C. eat less and grow and stay healthy.
- D. eat a lot of vegetables and healthy food.

39. Schools put pressure on students to .....

- A. do well in sports.
- B. improve their physical condition.
- C. do well in course exams.
- D. take a bus instead of walking or cycling to school.

40. According to the text, some schools in the USA have changed the starting time of lessons because .....

- A. they wanted to please their students.
- B. they wanted to improve students' performance.
- C. parents insisted on changing the time.
- D. teachers complained about how unmotivated the students were.
