The Fox and the Grapes

|                                                                  |  |
|------------------------------------------------------------------|--|
| The sun ripened grapes hung invitingly over the wall.            |  |
| It had been a hungry day for the fox.                            |  |
| At last, he gave up and said: "I am sure those grapes are sour." |  |
| He was very tired but kept on walking, searching for food.       |  |
| The fox jumped and jumped to reach the grapes.                   |  |
| He was very hungry and thirsty when he came near a vineyard.     |  |
| It was all in vain; he could not reach any of the branches.      |  |
