- 1 The Amazon Rainforest is disappearing. Every year an area five times the size of Israel is destroyed. What can we do about it? The first step is to become more aware of the rainforest products we use. For example, do you know where the paper in your notebooks came from? Do you know that you can buy tree-free paper? Do you know
- 5 that some restaurants use beef from cattle ranches¹ in the rainforest? The people who built the cattle ranches destroyed large areas of the rainforest. Remember that rainforests are important to life on Earth and that they are getting smaller every day. Many people are taking action to save the rainforest. Ed Stafford, for instance, walked 6,000 kilometers to raise awareness about the rainforest. What are other people doing?
- 10 2 The musician Sting and his wife started the Rainforest Foundation in 1989. Twice a year they organize concerts with famous singers like Sir Elton John, Lady Gaga, Bruce Springsteen and Pavarotti. Since 1989, their concerts have raised over 30 million dollars. The money is used to protect the rainforest and the way of life of the people who live there.
- 15 3 Movie director James Cameron wrote and directed Avatar. In the movie, a group of rainforest people fights to protect their planet, Pandora, from a company that wants to cut down the rainforest. Cameron had never been to the Amazon before he wrote the movie. After it came out, he visited the rainforest and met with several local chiefs. He was very upset by their story, so he decided to do something to make the
- 20 world more aware of their problems. At the moment he is making a documentary² about the Amazon and its people.

PART 2

- 4 Dr. Mark Plotkin isn't a celebrity³ like Cameron or Sting – he is a scientist. Dr. Plotkin first went to the Amazon in the 1970s. He spent years learning about the plants that the local medicine men use. The plants are used
- 25 to treat different diseases. Unfortunately, many kinds of plants are becoming extinct. Dr. Plotkin has had to work very fast to learn as much as possible before it's too late. In 1995, he started the Amazon Conservation Team.
- 30 This organization is working to save the local people along with their traditions and knowledge.
