

Listen to the story and fill in the gaps with the right verbs.

This [] in Australia ... when I [] about twenty-five. I [] a few days at a hotel in Alice Springs and [] to Ayers Rock and ... well, anyway, one day, I [] out for a walk ... in the outback. It [] a lovely day so I [] and [] ... and then I [] I [] where I []. I was a bit stupid, really... because I [] to go further ... I guess I []. I'd find the way back. Erm ... anyway, after that I [] some dogs. First I [] them barking, and then I [] them ... there [] a group – maybe five or six dogs, wild dogs, coming towards me. I [] really frightened, but I [] some advice I, er ..., I [] in my guidebook: Don't move, and don't look at the dogs. So I [], like a statue ... I didn't move ... and I [] at a tree, not at the dogs, and [] my eyes. The dogs [] all around me, jumping and barking ... I [] they were going to bite me. Then one dog [] bite my arm, just a little, but still I []. In the end, after about twenty minutes, the dogs [] away. I [] there for a few more minutes and then luckily [] my way back to the hotel. It [] the most frightening experience I []!