The situation

I went out for dinner last night with my family at the View Restaurant. The service was amazing, and we had a fun evening. However, after we got home, I realised that we had been overcharged by 30 percent for some expensive drinks, which we definitely hadn't ordered. Shall I complain?

2 Work in pairs. Decide whether you would complain to the restaurant or not.

3 Have you ever been overcharged in a restaurant? What happened? Did you [illegible]
