

Name: _____

Date: _____

Input and Output Devices

- Input device- a device that allows users to enter data into a computer.
- Output device-a device that allows users to view and interact with the results of the computer's processing.

1. Instructions: Match the following input and output devices to their descriptions:

prints text and
images on paper

used to enter text
and numbers

displays text, images
and videos

produces sound/helps
you to hear sound

used to record
audio

used to point and
click on objects on
the screen

2. Instructions: Read each statement carefully, and state if it is True or False.

a. A keyboard is an input device. _____

b. A mouse is an output device. _____

c. A printer is used to display text and images on a screen.

d. A touchscreen can be used for both input and output.

e. A speaker is used to input audio into a computer.

3. Instructions: Give an example of how input and output devices are used in everyday life.

a. Input Device:

b. Output Device: