

The Story about Tim Do Vs Make

Once upon a time, in a small city, there was a boy named Tim.

Tim was a happy kid who loved playing outside with his friends after school.

Every day after school, Tim would do his homework before going out to play. He always makes his bed in the morning, so it looks neat and tidy.

Tim's mom sometimes asks him to do the dishes after dinner, but his favorite was helping her make dinner.

One day, Tim's grandmother asked him to do the shopping for her. And he was happy to help her.

Tim always found time to make new friends at school and often made a phone call to invite them over to play.
