

The Mother City

Hello, everyone! My name is Salama, and I'm excited to introduce you to my beloved city, Cape Town. Join me as we embark on a journey to discover the real beauty of this remarkable place. Let's explore the city together!

Cape Town is my hometown. It's a bustling metropolis with a lot to offer. My family and I live right in the heart of the city, and I enjoy taking leisurely strolls along the bustling Kloof Street with my parents. There are towering buildings all around us, and I can see people rushing to work.

As we walk, we come across the renowned Groote Schuur Hospital. It's a place where dedicated doctors and nurses work tirelessly to care for the sick. I visited there once when I had a bad cold.

We're on the sidewalk, and up ahead, there's a well-marked pedestrian crossing. It's crucial to use the pedestrian crossing when we want to safely cross the road. The traffic light nearby lets us know when it's safe to walk.

Look, there's a museum! It's the Iziko South African Museum, a unique place where you can explore ancient artifacts, paintings, and historical treasures. I love going there with my school to learn more about our rich history.

Cape Town isn't just about urban life; it's also brimming with natural beauty. We have the stunning Company's Garden, a lush park where I often play with my friends. We like to visit on weekends, and right now, I'm having fun on the swings.

When it's time to grab a meal, my family and I enjoy dining at a local restaurant. There's a wide variety of delicious cuisine to choose from in Cape Town, and today, I'm savoring a traditional South African dish called "Bunny chow." It's a South African fast food classic that consists of a hollowed-out loaf of bread filled with curry. It's a must-try when visiting Cape Town!

I hope you enjoyed our little tour of the city! In this unit, we'll delve deeper into Cape Town and practice using English to describe all the incredible experiences it has to offer.

1. Fill in the gaps with the appropriate words from the word bank.

Word Bank: city, sidewalk, restaurant, Company's Garden, Groote Schuur Hospital, museum, Bunny chow, hometown

Hello, everyone! I'm Salama, and I'd like to show you my beautiful _____. I'm thrilled to share all the fantastic things I love about it. Let's explore the _____ together!

We reside in the heart of the _____, and I cherish walking on the streets with my family. At this moment, I'm strolling down a bustling street with my parents. There are towering buildings all around us, and I can see people rushing to work.

We're on the _____, and there's a well-marked _____ ahead. It's essential to use the crosswalk when we want to cross the road safely. The _____ nearby informs us when it's safe to walk.

Look, there's a _____! It's called the _____, a place where you can discover ancient artifacts and delve into history. I adore visiting it with my school.

Cape Town isn't only about buildings and streets. It's also teeming with natural beauty. We have the magnificent _____, a lush park where I often play with my friends. We frequently go there on weekends, and right now, I'm having fun on the swings.

When it's time to dine, my family and I favor eating at a local _____. There's an array of delectable dishes to sample in Cape Town, and today, I'm savoring a traditional South African dish called "_____." It's a South African fast food classic consisting of a hollowed-out loaf of bread filled with curry. It's a must-try when visiting the city!

2. Put the sentences in the right order

South in located city Cape Africa a is Town

City in living the of millions are people there
