At the Flower Shop

Shop assistant: Can I help you?

Rick: Yes, I would like some flowers for my girlfriend.

Shop assistant: What flowers would you like?

Rick: What do you recommend [ˌrekəˈmend]?

Shop assistant: We have very good irises
[ˈaɪrɪsɪz]. They are yellow, blue and white. We can put the three colours together for you.

Rick: Irises? I don't think she likes irises.

Shop assistant: What about roses? We have very beautiful roses. They are from Holland [ˈhɒlənd]¹.

Rick: What colour are they? Do you have red roses? You see, it's my friend's birthday. She is twenty-five today. It's a big day for her.

Shop assistant: Certainly we have red roses. Do you like these? Aren't they beautiful?

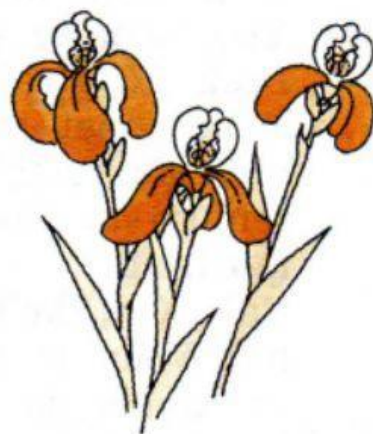

Rick: Very beautiful. I'd like twelve red roses and thirteen white roses, please.

Shop assistant: Very good, sir. What's her name and her address?

Rick: She lives at 19, Queen Street. Her name is Helen Clark. I would like a "Happy Birthday" card too.

Shop assistant: Yes, sir. Fifteen pounds², please.

Rick: Here, please.
