Narrator1: Once upon a time three pigs left their mother's home and went into the world.

Pig1: Bye Mommy.

Pig2: Bye-bye Mommy.

Pig3: Bye-bye my mommy and take care yourself.

Mother: Good-bye my little sons.

Narrator2: The three pigs went different ways. Soon pig first met a man who was selling straw.

Pig 1: I need some straw, would you sell it to me?

Man: Of course. Take it.

Narrator3: Pig first paid the man and went to build his house.

Later, Pig second met a man who was selling wood.

Pig 2: Please Sir, I need some wood to build my house.

Would you sell it to me?

Man: Yes. Take it.

Narrator4: Pig second paid the man and went on his way to make his wood house. Later, Pig third met a man who was selling bricks.

Pig 3: Excuse me Sir, I need some bricks. Are they for sale?

Man: Of course. Take them.

Narrator5: Pig third paid the man and went on his way to build his brick house. When the three pigs finished their houses they moved in. Pig first was taking a nap when someone knocked at the door. Pig first looked through the window and saw a wolf.

Wolf: Little pig, little pig, let me in!

Pig 1: Not by the hair on my chinny-chin-chin.

Wolf: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down!!

Narrator6: The wolf huffed and puffed and destroyed pig first's house. Pig first ran all the way to pig second's house. When he got there Pig first told Pig second what had happened. Pig second invited Pig first to live with him. After a few days, there was a knock at the door. The two pigs looked out the window and it was the wolf.

Wolf: Little pigs, little pigs, let me in!

Pig 1 & 2: Not by the hairs on our chinny-chin-chins.

Wolf: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down.

Narrator7: The wolf huffed and puffed and destroyed the house. The pig brothers ran all the way to pig third's house. When they got there pig first and pig second told pig third everything that had happened. Then pig third invited his two brothers to live with him. After a few days, there was a knock at the door. The pigs looked out the window and they saw the wolf.

Wolf: Little pigs, little pigs, let me in!

Pigs 1,2,3: Not by the hairs on our chinny-chin-chins.

Wolf: Then I'll huff and I'll puff and I'll blow your house down.

Narrator8: The wolf huffed and puffed several times but he couldn't destroy the brick house. Then the wolf decided to think what to do, so he went and sat on a log. Meanwhile, the three pigs started cooking dinner. They put a large pot of water in the fireplace to cook some soup.

Wolf: I know what to do. I'll get in through the chimney and I will eat those pigs.

Narrator9: The wolf climbed up to the roof. But he didn't know that there was a pot of boiling water at the bottom of the chimney. Suddenly the three pigs heard a noise.

Wolf: I'm coming to get you little pigs!

Narrator10: The wolf then jumped down the chimney and fell into the pot of boiling water.

Wolf: AAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH! Help me! Help me!

AAHHHHHHHHHH Help me! Help me!

Narrator11: The wolf jumped back up the chimney and ran into the woods.

Pig 3: You're not big and bad anymore, Big Bad Wolf.

Pig 2: How clever you are, Big Brother! You've saved our lives again. I'll always listen to you.

Pig 1: I'll always listen to you too.

Pig 3: From now on, we'll live safely and happily together.

Narrator¹²: The three little pigs hug together then lived in peace and never saw the wolf again.

The moral of the story: Investing time and effort in doing things properly can protect us from unforeseen dangers.

Warm: Thank you very much for your listening.
