FINAL EXAM BUSINESS PARTNER A1

READING

1) Read the conversation and write true (T) or false (F).

A: So, to issue a purchase order , you have to go into the payment system.

First, you have to open the system.

B: OK.

A: Then , you enter the supplier's details: name, address, etc. on the system.

B: Do I have to do that every time?

A: No, you don't. You can choose it from a list here. When you have the supplier's details , you enter the price here and the delivery date here. You can find the information on the contract.

B: And do I notify the supplier that the purchase order is ready?

A: No, you don't have to do that. The system notifies the supplier automatically by email.

B: OK, that's clear. What's next?

A: The supplier delivers the items and requests payment.

B: So they have to tell us to pay them. Right?

A: Yes, they issue an invoice with the purchase order number on it. We can't pay invoices without a purchase order number. You have to check the invoice against the purchase order. If it's correct, you can request management approval. The manager approves the payment. And when they approve it, you can make the payment, but that's later. Do you want to try to create a purchase order?

B: Yes, please.
