

Match the sentences in the left column (1-12) with their logical counterparts in the right column(A-L). Drag and drop sentences (A-L) into the middle column.

1 Someone's at the door.	_____	A It might be Laura's. She was in here earlier.
2 She must be his girlfriend.	_____	B She might be having a nap. She often does after lunch.
3 I can't find my keys.	_____	C He must be tired – he flew back from London last night.
4 Look, what's that?	_____	D The surname might be Smith. That looks like an 's'.
5 I'm starving! Is there anything to eat?	_____	E It can't be a plane. It's flying too low.
6 Who's that sitting next to Andrew?	_____	F Look, they're holding hands.
7 Someone's left their umbrella here.	_____	G They can't be. They only left ten minutes ago and it takes an hour.
8 Happy birthday! Can you guess what it is?	_____	H It must be the postman. He always comes at eight.
9 Eddie's very quiet this morning.	_____	I It can't be a book – it's not heavy enough. Is it a video game or a DVD?

10 That's the doorbell. Do you think they're here already? 11 Do you think Gran's alright? She's not answering her phone. 12 I can't read this signature – can you make anything of it?	<hr/> <hr/> <hr/>	J They might be at your workplace. K You can't be hungry again. You've only just had lunch. L It must be his dad. He looks just like him.
--	-------------------	--