

Reading Comprehension Passage:

Meet Sarah. She has a favorite object that she uses every day. Let's see if you can guess what it is!

Sarah's Favorite Object:

Sarah's object is small and rectangular. It has buttons on the front, and when you press them, it makes different sounds. Sarah carries it in her pocket, and sometimes it rings, alerting her that she has a message or a call. She often uses it to take pictures and play games. What do you think Sarah's favorite object is?

Questions:

1. What shape is Sarah's favorite object?
 2. Where does Sarah carry her object?
 3. What happens when Sarah presses the buttons on her object?
 4. How does Sarah know she has a message or a call?
 5. Name one activity Sarah uses her object for.
-

Answers:

Sarah's favorite object is small and rectangular.
Sarah carries her object in her pocket.
When Sarah presses the buttons on her object, it makes different sounds.
Sarah knows she has a message or a call when her object rings.
Sarah uses her object to take pictures and play games.